PizzaGest Printing Service

The Printing Service is in charge of making the kitchen printers work. Its screen shows at a glance which printer is assigned to each Kitchen Zone.

How to get here: it starts automatically every time you start PizzaGest. Afterwards, click the icon with the picture of a printer in the taskbar.

Never close the Printing Service: if you do, the kitchen printers stop working. If you close it by mistake, exit PizzaGest and start it again so that the service starts again.

How it works

When you start PizzaGest, the Printing Service screen appears. It minimizes automatically and an icon with the picture of a printer is added to the taskbar. If you click that icon, this same screen appears again.

Kitchen Zones

The screen shows the printer assigned to each Kitchen Zone. You can have up to 8 different Kitchen Zones set up.

> You can assign a different Kitchen Zone for the Dine-in tickets and the Delivery tickets of each Family Group, from the Add/Modify Family Groups screen, or of each Sales Item, from the Add/Modify Sales Items screen.

Buttons

They are on the right side of the screen:

- Stop: stops the Printing Service and, therefore, the kitchen printers stop working. Clicking it is not recommended, unless you want to stop printing the kitchen tickets.

- Configure: lets you set up the printer of each Kitchen Zone on the Printer Settings screen, if you have the required permissions. You get to it through the Access to Printer Settings screen.
- Hide: click it if, when you start PizzaGest, the Printing Service screen takes a while to minimize automatically, or when you have opened the Printing Service from the printer icon in the taskbar.
