Quantity and cooking notes

You reach this screen by tapping Continue on the ingredients screen or, if the item has no ingredients, directly from its Options button.

Quantity: use the − and + buttons to set how many units the guest wants. You can also tap the number and type it.

Cooking notes: the instructions for the kitchen. The usual notes the restaurant has set up in PizzaGest for that category are listed (for example "Lightly cooked"); just tap one. If you do not need any, leave None selected.

Other note: if what the guest asks for is not on the list, tap here to type it.

Type the note (25 characters max.) and tap Add note. You go back to the previous screen, where the note now appears.

Finally, tap Add item to add it to the order.

Example: the guest wants 2 BBQ pizzas like the one just prepared, cut into 8 slices. Tap + to set the quantity to 2, tap Other note, type "Cut into 8 slices" and tap Add item.

> Cooking notes only appear for categories that are printed in the kitchen.
